

Degree project/Master's theses available at SciLifeLab Stockholm

Voltage gated ion channels are membrane proteins that transfer electrical signals across cellular membranes. Their dysfunction leads to epilepsy, heart arrhythmias or paralysis diseases.

Come and use computer simulations to investigate how voltage gated ion channels function and how to exploit this knowledge to treat diseases!

